Valuable Internet Links

The IRS and Hawaii has tons of information available on line. If you have the time to search through everything that is available, you can get almost any federal or state tax questions answered. To narrow down the search a little here are a few of the most useful links that the IRS offers.

General information about all that the IRS offers including current topics:

<https://www.irs.gov/>

Every tax form the IRS has including instructions can be found here:

<https://www.irs.gov/forms-pubs>

Everything you need to know about your federal personal income tax can be found here:

<https://www.irs.gov/uac/about-publication-17>

And if you have a small business, here is where you can get your answers:

<https://www.irs.gov/businesses/small-businesses-self-employed>

Here is the starting point for Hawaii Tax questions and research:
